

Psychology in Spain

Dates: March 7 - 15

Deadline: November 22

Faculty Director: Ty Abernathy

Course: EPY/PSY 4710/6710

Cost: $2,399

APPLY
HERE!

MISSISSIPPI STATE UNIVERSITY
OFFICE OF STUDY ABROAD

Psychology in Spain

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

The development and history of psychology in Spain has experienced its ups and downs dating back to the early 1900s. The political climate of Spain has directly influenced the trajectory of psychological study, service, and research in the country.

Following the Spanish Civil War, the dictatorship of Francisco Franco from 1939 to 1975 significantly suppressed the influence of psychology as well as other parts of society in the Spanish culture. The science of psychology throughout Spain was growing before the dictatorship and after it continued growth has taken place at a rapid rate. The Spanish people from every walk of life are learning how applying the principles of psychology to everyday real-world problems can have a favorable and far-reaching impact on their lives. You will learn about the contributions of the most famous Spanish psychologists such as Santiago Ramon y Cajal, Luis Simarro, Gonzalo Rodriguez-Lafora, José Germain, and Emilio Mira-López. Plus, Seville is simply one of the most beautiful, incredible, and visited cities in all of the world!

WHAT'S INCLUDED:

- Hotel lodging
- All activity and excursion entrance fees
- In-country transportation
- Breakfast each day
- Welcome dinner and farewell dinner

WHAT'S NOT INCLUDED:

- Entry and exit requirements (Passport, testing, vaccination, etc.)
- International airfare
- Majority of meals (lunch and most dinners)

*If a student is enrolled fulltime for Spring 2024, there is no additional tuition cost for this program.

